nquiry Concerning California From Eastern Points.

San Francisco, September 23d.-Secre tary Davies of the State Board of Trade to-day sent out to subordinate Boards in the various counties a long list of people whose inclinations are toward removal to California. During the summer months correspondence of this sort has naturally been light, but now a slight increase noted. There are scores of postal cards received every week asking for literature pertaining to various counties. Within wo weeks a dozen or more letters came in, each announcing the intention of the writer to come here as soon as he can get satisfactory information or raise money enough. Many of the correspondents figure that they can reach here with a family and then have from $200 to $1,000 left. They are anxious to know the best use to which they can put that limited capital on arrival. CRUISER CHARLESTON. Official Report of the Trial Board on File in Washington. Washington, September 23d,-The official report of the Trial Board of the new ruiser Charleston was received at the Navy Department from San Francisco to-day. The report shows that the maximum horse-power developed was 6,816, while the average power is considerably less, making a deficiency under the contract requirement calling for about $20,000 penalty. The Board stated that the hull, fittings, engines. machinery, boilers, etc., are strong and well built and in conformity with the contract and changes made by the Department; that the vessel is sufficiently strong to carry her coal equipment, etc. They call attenion to the better vacuum maintained by the improved air pumps adopted by the contractors, by the means of which fully 150 horse-power is saved.

HEAVY FAILURE.

The Publishing House of Belford, Clarke & Co. Goes to the Wall. CHICAGO, September 23d.—The mammoth publishing house of Belford, Clarke & Co. which has a large establishment here and branches in New York and San Francisco went to the wall to day.

This afternoon judgments were entered against them in the Circuit Court in favor of the First National Bank and S. A. Maxwell. Attachments were issued, and shortly after the place was seized by the Sheriff A receiver was appointed by Judge Shepard. The failure, while a surprise to the general public, has been expected for some time by those familiar with the firm's stand-ing. Lawyer Newman, attorney for several of the creditors and also for the receiver, said three things were responsible for the failure.

In 1886 the entire plant was destroyed by fire, causing a loss of over $150,000. The firm promptly resumed business, but during the last ten years suffered very heavily ing the last ten years suffered very heavily by failures of customers. The collapse of one firm in San Francisco alone cost them $70,000$. In addition to this, the competition between Eastern publishers, particularly of the standard works, has been so brisk that the market had been almost wholly destroyed.

Newman said in his opinion the assets of the company amount to about $400,000 and the liabilities to about the same. The principal creditors are the Crowe Printing Company, over $15,000; Donahue & Henneberry, $75,000; First National Bank of Chicago, $30,000; S. A. Maxwell, $13,000. Be-

$30,000; S. A. Maxwell, $13 000. Be-

Another lawyer discussing the causes of the failure, said that Andrew McNally, of Rand, McNally & Co., who is Belford's father-in-law, had been backing the firm for some time and that his refusal to indorse the firm's paper prompted the First National Bank to enter up judgment. The attorney thought if Mr. McNally had not discontinued his support the firm might have pulled through.

Thomas C. Hammond, a member of the firm of Walker, Oakley & Co., leather mer-

Prior to the appointment of a receiver Donahue & Henneberry, who were the largin its report does not specify that these changes are outside of the contract, he is loath to act until the subject of the conbeen paid in. LEOPARD HUNTING.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), September 23d .- A few days ago John Wulfenkuhler, of Nevada, Mo., came to this city for treatment for wounds received in what is probably the most remarkable manner ever known in this country. He had been severely bitten and scratched by an African eopard that was running wild in the bot tom lands along Grand river, near Nevada. About ten days ago Forepaugh's circus exhibited in that city, and as the train was entering the town a misplaced switch caused a wreck, which broke to pieces a car containing several cages of animals. All were easily captured, except an enormous African leopard, which made a dash for the woods on Grand river. The circus proprietors offered a reward of $500 for the capture alive, of the animal. The presence of a leopard in the woods was constant menace to the farmers of that vicinity, and there was very little unnecessary traveling after dark. When a visit was unavoidable at a late hour, it was always made in the company of as many as could be induced to go.

Soon pigs, sheep and calves were missed, and then the farmers determined to hun the animal down and get him either alive

Hunting parties were organized but were sful, as the beast could not be seen. Last Wednesday Wolfenkhuler and Wil iam Wallace were hunting about six mile rom Nevada and saw a big spotted animal sneaking through the underbrush along the river bank. They at once gave chase and list votes at some of the polling stations ran it to earth in small cave or hole in a pile of rocks. They determined to capture talive and built a strong pen at the entrance of the cave and started a fire to smoke the leopard out. It had the desired effect and the animal made a dash into the pen where not engaging the old hands they agreed to he was securely fastened. Not, however, until he had inflicted several wounds or Wolfenkuhler's arms.

The official announcement of the result of the experiment is, in brief, that saloons have been reduced fifty per cent. in number the revenue has been increased immensely, the exact percentage not having yet been calculated; the volume of crime has been lessened greatly, and good order has been maintained at much less expense to the State and to municipalities than hereto fore. Such results agree with the experience of Pennsylvania and Illinois and with towns and cities in other States where the system has been adopted.

IT is a little odd that the municipal authorities of New York did not know that Washington has no Mayor, but that the District of Columbia is governed by a Commission appointed by the Federal Government. Yet the Mayor of New York sent out his invitation to the "Mayor of Washington" to co-operate with him in promoting the scheme of a World's Fair to be held in New York. The Washington people are laughing at Mayor Grant's blunder, and at the same time they are angry that New York should assume that she is to have the fair, whether or no. This village, however, is only the night quarters of the more favored of the equine kingdom, and the nursery of their progeny. There are nine huge hay barns clustered about the center of the village. These are painted in brown, with white trimmings. A great grist mill, with steam power for grinding the food, is near at hand. Another huge barn is for the work horses and mules of the place-nearly 150 in number—the servitors of the pampered aristocracy of the kingdom. "What price do they hold such phenom enal youngsters at out there?" "The children of Electioneer, out of the best blooded mothers, cannot be bought for less than $5,000, and from that they run to $25,000 and $30,000, the latter figure having been offered for Suno!, whose two-year-old record of 2:18 stands unrivaled. The phenomenal figure received for Bell Boy by Senator Stockbridge of Michigan—$50,000—was what raised the price of all the Palo Alto stock. Bell Boy himself was sold from the farm for $5,000, but never again will a young Electioneer stallion go so cheap. I saw a young brother of Bell Boy, who was recently sold for $20,000. He is to be kept on the ranch for another year. The Stanford sale in New York last spring gave another boom to the progeny of this costly nursery. If you remember, eighty-eight yearling colts

"Did you see any of the would beaters of previous years?" "Yes, and I failed to see that age has mproved any of them. Wildflower, whose two-year-old record of 2:211 was for so long wonder, is now a reputable 'matron' of nine, without another second to her credit. She has had a couple of foals, but neither of them proved remarkable. Hinda Rose with a yearling record of 2:311 and twoyear-old record of 2:191, has also passed out of view. She, too, has been turned among the brood-mares. There is a young stallion there, however, which has a pacing record of 2:16, but at two years old he did nothing wonderful, from which I am inclined to doubt whether these phenomenal baby records give much promise of future greatness. Like precocity in the hu-man kind, phenomenal infantile speed loes not always insure continued development later in life.

and fillies brought an aggregate of $138,-

"Altogether, however, Palo Alto is one of the wonders of the equine world, and if the rich Senator never realizes a dollar of profit out of it it will ever stand as a monament to what its establishment has done for the equine race."

Side-band Suitings and New Trimmings are the order of the day. The trimmings of the past few seasons have been replaced with decidedly new ideas in pretty Braided Dress Fronts, stylish Silk Fringes and the loosely-worn Silkbraided Sashes, which come in a variety of widths. It is useless to attempt to describe in detail our excellent assortment of new effects and new colors in Dress Braids. They were all carefully selected at the commencement of the season, and in colors to match all the new shades in dress materials. In consequence of this, our sales in Trimmings and Woolen Goods this autumn have been larger than ever. Owing to the particular success we have had with our large variety of SIDE-BAND SUITINGS from $3 50 to $45 per pattern, we invite your special attention to them. We shall take pleasure in showing them to you before you finally decide on any other kind of dress material. They come with exceedingly pretty silk-woven and artistically embroidered borders.
